1992-2005

10.2 cm of textual records, 68 photographs and printed images, 2 compact discs, 2 plaques and 1 seal

Administrative history: The Sudbury Mining Heritage Committee Inc. was established in May of 1992 which consisted of representatives of labour, government, industry and interested citizens. The committee's role was to develop a mandate, objectives, a strategy and a plan to erect a monument and finally determine the best site for the monument. The committee's mandate was that the memorial was not to be a memorial to dead miners but a celebration of Sudbury's mining heritage.

The members of the original committee were: Oliverio Massimiliano, Jim Tester, Bill Clement, Gord Slade, Rachel Prudhomme, Mel Papjke, Ernie Taylor, Don McGraw, Ron Macdonald, Marc Grouse, Marcel Caron, Alfred Annor, Don Millette, Don Waddell, Wayne Floreani and Martin Parnell.

The committee began fundraising but were not very successful until in 1997 when Len Kitchener, Roxanne Kneer and Marlene Moore joined the team. Corporate donations began coming in and in 2000 the committee was successful in receiving two federal grants.

By January 2000, the executive had met with sculptor Timothy Schmalz of Elmira, Ontario and had agreed to his $120,000 proposal.

The site location at Bell Park was approved on February 21, 2001 and Gord Slade was hired to supervise the site preparation and installation. The official unveiling ceremony was held on September 15, 2001 with 200-300 people in attendance.

Scope and content: The fonds consists of correspondence, minutes, financial reports, press conferences, news clippings, and photographs. The entire process of creating a memorial from the fundraising, choosing a sculptor and sculpture, site location to the unveiling ceremony and maintenance of the sculpture is well documented. The community involvement with the project is also documented.

There was no original order and the files are arranged by chronological order.

Note: Immediate source of acquisition: The fonds was donated by Gord Slade, Vice-chairman of the Committee in 2005
